Welcome to Copenhagen West

I am pleased to welcome – participants, officials and volunteers – to this exciting qualification match between Monaco and Denmark in the European Police Championship.

An especially warm welcome to our fellow police colleagues from Monaco. We face a world where crime gets more and more serious and complex and spans across borders.

International cooperation is therefore of the essence.

Sports is a great way to make new contacts professionally and socially and stay healthy.

I hope you will enjoy your stay here in Copenhagen West.

Finally I wish you all – players and football lovers – a great match. Remember winning is important but taking part is essential. Fight well!

Greetings
